

Czechs adamant; crisis nears

MOSCOW (AP) — Czechoslovak leaders who are determined to press ahead with their liberalization program and Kremlin bosses who have virtually ordered them to turn back to Stalinist controls will have a confrontation in Czechoslovakia within the next few days.

It could be the showdown in the tense struggle over Prague's effort to find its own path to communism. Looming in the background is a Soviet press campaign which could justify use of tanks to crush Czechoslovak liberalization.

A curt announcement of the meeting between full leadership groups of the Soviet and Czechoslovak Communist parties followed a Kremlin attack on Prague leaders for rejecting earlier Soviet bloc advice on how to run their country.

The attack was coupled with a stern, almost threatening, Soviet assertion that the Kremlin knows what is best for Czechoslovakia.

The announcement did not mention when or where in Czechoslovakia the meeting would be held. Communist sources here heard Wednesday or Thursday in Bratislava or Kosice.

The Soviet leadership's agreement to go to Czechoslovakia followed preliminary skirmishing that indicated a minor tactical victory for Prague.

The Czechoslovak Communist party first secretary, Alexander Dubcek, had repeatedly expressed a willingness to meet separately with leaders of other Communist parties in Czechoslovakia. But he refused to attend a Soviet bloc hard-liners' meeting of five parties a week ago in Warsaw.

The Russians then publicly proposed last Friday a meeting of their 11-man party steering committee, the Politburo, with the Czechoslovak party's 11-man steering committee, the Presidium in the Soviet Union Monday or today.

A few Czechoslovak Presidium members are believed to be wavering under Soviet pressure. The full 22-man meeting appeared to be a Soviet effort to drive a wedge between Dubcek and some of his comrades.

The new Soviet attack, in an editorial in Pravda, centered on Czechoslovak rejection of a virtual ultimatum from Soviet bloc hard-liners meeting in Warsaw. They had demanded that liberalization be halted and steps taken to restrict dissident voices in Prague to end any questioning of the Communist party's control.

The Soviet press campaign might be used to justify any decision for military intervention in Czechoslovakia.

Pravda criticized the reply last week of the Czechoslovak Communist party's Presidium to the Warsaw letter of the parties of the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria.

The reply rejected the letter's virtual ultimatum that Stalinist controls be reimposed in Prague for the good of the whole Soviet bloc.

Yet Czechoslovak leaders are ignoring the Warsaw letter's demands to silence those who question the party's rule and to reassert absolute control, Pravda said.

One reason cited in Prague for a rejection of the Kremlin's invitation to meet in the Soviet Union was the continued Soviet failure to withdraw troops from Czechoslovakia.

The delay of those troops, some of 16,000 men sent to Czechoslovakia last month for Warsaw Pact maneuvers, plus a Soviet press campaign made a dark background for Pravda's stern attitude.

Registration dates set

Ray pleads not guilty to murder

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, pale from weeks in British and Memphis jails but neatly dressed in a dark blue suit, sat silently Monday as his lawyer entered a plea of innocent to a charge that Ray killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Judge Preston Battle set Ray's trial for Nov. 12.

Ray's appearance at the arraignment was the first time he had been seen publicly since being flown from London to Memphis, under tight security, last week.

Closely guarded, but not wearing handcuffs as he did when he entered the Memphis jail last Friday, Ray listened quietly as attorney Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala., entered his plea.

Immediately after the 12-minute proceeding, Ray was returned to his steel-skinned suite of air-conditioned cells on the third floor of the Shelby County jail, adjacent to the court building.

At no time did Hanes call Ray by name. After the reading of each indictment—one charging murder and the other carrying a "dangerous weapon"—Hanes said: "The defendant wants to enter a plea of not guilty."

Hanes did not request a psychiatric examination for his client.

Following the arraignment, Hanes spent about three hours in the jail cell with Ray. The lawyer told newsmen he planned to return to Birmingham later in the day.

About 70 persons, most of them newsmen, ran the security gauntlet to enter the courtroom. Each was searched and his voice and picture tape recorded.

Nearly a dozen policemen in civilian clothes sat inside the courtroom, and more were outside in the hallway.

The security checks, required also of the judge and attorneys in the case, delayed the start of the arraignment for 27 minutes.

Ray, brought from jail through a tunnel, entered the courtroom through a door beside the judge's elevated bench. Ray was escorted by Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. and two other officers.

Ray sat between his lawyers, Hanes and Hanes son, Arthur Jr., at the counsel table.

To their left sat Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil Canale and two of his aides. The sheriff sat behind Ray.

Confirmation of Fortas is delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Southern senator's demand that the Justice Department explain its endorsement of Abe Fortas served Monday to extend for at least another day the lengthy hearings on Fortas' appointment to be chief justice.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., described as a propaganda effort the department's evaluation of Fortas, currently an associate justice on the Supreme Court.

President Johnson appointed Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren and simultaneously named U.S. Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry to fill the court vacancy that would be created by Warren's retirement—which Johnson specified would become effective with Fortas' confirmation by the Senate.

Prior to Ervin's demand, it had been planned to recess the hearings indefinitely.

NATO maneuvers shifted

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany, France and the United States were reported Monday to have dropped plans to hold September military maneuvers three miles from Czechoslovakia's frontier because the allies do not want to give the Soviet Union any pretext for intervention.

West German officials said Monday night that there was little doubt that the maneuvers would be shifted well away from the border area, or their timing changed to prevent possible misunderstandings.

Soviet propaganda already has accused certain elements in Czechoslovakia of encouraging "Western imperialism" and West German revenge seekers. This is part of the Soviet campaign against the liberalizing leadership in Prague.

The maneuvers would engage 30,000 West German troops and U.S. and French units in Operation Black Lion Sept. 15-21 in southern Germany near the Czechoslovak frontier. The troops were to repulse a mock attack by Warsaw Pact forces.

HHH scoffs at any deal with Wallace

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey declared Monday he would make no deal with former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and would rather not be president than have to "depend on a racist vote."

Humphrey edged back into his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination after two weeks of illness with a double-barreled volley at Wallace and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Humphrey, at an informal news conference at La Guardia Airport, also blamed a dip in popularity in the polls to his off-and-on campaigning due to the moratorium after Robert F. Kennedy's murder.

He as much as predicted he would win the nomination on the first ballot. In addition, Humphrey said that while he was willing to debate McCarthy during the week before the Democratic National Convention which opens Aug. 26, he saw little point in any further debates since he pictured McCarthy as a one-issue candidate. He said that all he had heard McCarthy talk about was Vietnam, and that he had no proposal on how to settle the war.

Governors agree

Money not sole ghetto cure

CINCINNATI (AP) — The nation's governors discussed poverty and ghettos today and the majority of those who spoke agreed that more government money is not the answer to the overall problem.

Democrats and Republicans alike developed that consensus.

It was a crackling, down-to-earth discussion, touched off by John W. Gardner, former secretary of health, education and welfare. In a speech before the governors' first plenary meeting, he said:

"We cannot solve the awesome problems that cloud our future — as a nation without spending a great deal more money than we are now spending."

When Gardner finished speaking, Massachusetts Gov. John Volpe, the chairman, called for comments. They came thick and fast, with numerous dissents to Gardner's statement.

In related developments at the national conference:

1. The governors unanimously adopted a resolution praising President Johnson. It said he has "established the best working relationship that has ever existed between state and federal governments." The resolution was introduced by California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a Republican.

2. Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana told a news conference that George C. Wallace, third party candidate for president, is the favorite in at least six states now—one a Western state. He said if the majority parties run a close race in November Wallace's vote, as it now appears, would be "certainly enough to throw the election into the House of Representatives."

A number of the governors praised Gardner's work as a former Cabinet member but they said bluntly they did not agree with his central premise. Gov. George Romney of Michigan said, "I disagree with the premise that money is the most essential ingredient in solving these problems."

Romney said he had studied numerous ghetto areas. "The programs that are working are the programs where people who need help show some initiative," he declared.

In a similar vein, Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri said, "Jobs are open to some people who won't get on a bus and go five miles to work. There are plenty of people who do not want to work."

Reagan told the group "Our directions should be more toward people than the structures around them." He said a businessman told him that in Watts, scene of racial disorders a few years ago, employees of three different federal poverty agencies were competing with each other.

instead are pushing for a complete cessation of bombing.

U.S. strategists privately feel that if the President orders a resumption of bombing above the 19th Parallel, the American pilots would have to "start all over again."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators gave a sympathetic ear Monday to Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson's plea that his department be spared manpower reductions that would force what he termed a "disgraceful" cut in mail service.

Watson told the senate Post Office Committee that it is not a matter of money but of help.

"We have the money," Watson said. "But we do not have the people to handle the growing volume of mail."

Chairman A.S. Jake Monroney D-Okla., told Watson he agrees that the service reductions outlined by the postmaster general under a new manpower edict would be disastrous.

Congress, in passing President Johnson's 10 per cent income surtax, demanded a rollback to 1966 levels of all government agencies.

Watson said this would mean a loss of 83,000 postal workers over a four-year period during which, he said, the annual mail volume will jump from 84 billion pieces to 93 billion.

"Something will have to give," Watson said. "That something is service."

Watson said that unless he gets clear indication before September that Congress will exempt the Post Office from the rollback he is ready to take these actions:

—Eliminate Saturday residence delivery service by November and eventually reduce such service to four days a week;

—Halt delivery service to new homes, apartments and office buildings;

—Close 500 third-class and fourth-class post offices by the end of August and eventually close all 12,000 of them;

—Leave unfilled all vacancies occurring on rural routes;

Noting the cutback program would begin Saturday, Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., asked how it could be delayed. Watson replied he could hold off if there were signs of favorable congressional reaction soon.

Soviet troops withdraw

PRAGUE (AP) — Soviet troops completed their withdrawal from Czechoslovakia Monday night, well-informed sources reported, while preparations went ahead for a meeting of Moscow and Prague party leaders to discuss this nation's liberalization drive.

The sources said the last of the 18,500 Soviet troops crossed the Slovak-Soviet border near Presov. The Red army units had lingered in Czechoslovak territory for three weeks after the end of Warsaw Pact maneuvers June 30.

Their reported departure coincided with the agreement to hold showdown talks in Czechoslovakia. The Prague liberal leadership was known to have insisted that the troops clear out before the meeting could begin.

Soviet acceptance of Czechoslovakia as a site for the conversations—the Kremlin had proposed two Soviet cities last week—was greeted here with widespread relief as a possible prelude to a de-escalation of the war of nerves between the Czechoslovak reformers and Moscow's hard-line Communists.

But some Czechoslovak Communist informants cautioned against expecting spectacular results from the meeting.

"This campaign against us has been fought with heavy weapons and any rapid understanding seems to be out of the question," one informant said.

The precise site and the date of the meeting, to be attended by all members of the Soviet and Czechoslovak politbureaus was still to be announced. The 11-man Prague group includes some less-than-liberal elements.

Some sources here immediately expressed hope that the psychological warfare against the new Prague regime may soon be de-escalated.

"I hope that this means we have won the war of nerves," was one comment.

But the news was tempered by a report that a new note had been received from Moscow filled with ominous warnings.

And there were new Soviet propaganda attacks coupled with implications of possible military intervention.

Rumors promptly denied, spread through the country of Soviet troop movements in western Bohemia, close to the Czechoslovak-West German border.

Senators appear sympathetic to restoring postal cuts

NYC bargain hunters turn 'ritzy' store upside down

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's just like Macy's basement," said a perspiring salesman Monday as he looked at the crowds jamming the aisles of Abercrombie & Fitch, a sporting goods store known for its merchandise and patrons—both very staid, both very upper crust.

The store had advertised an "outrageous warehouse sale," the first in its history, including merchandise from storerooms in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

Among the items on sale:—A stuffed fish, about which

College may keep listing

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa. (AP)—Slippery Rock State College said Monday the Middle States Association has decided against dropping Slippery Rock from its list of accredited colleges.

The Association sent a team of investigators to the campus recently and was threatening to strike the school from its list or place it on probation because of a rift in the college administration.

As things stand now, a college spokesman said, Slippery Rock is subject to additional evaluation. The new college president, Dr. Albert A. Watrel, must submit progress reports to the Association from time to time.

The spokesman said the Association is particularly concerned that there is cooperation between the board of trustees and the faculty and said it is important that two vacancies on the board be filled.

the store said, "Imagine stuffing it. Someone did. DON'T KNOW WHAT IT COSTS. Will sell for five cents." The fish went to a boy who, a salesman said, "was here when we unloaded the truck Friday, was here Saturday and was here this morning."

Liquor raids pulled in area

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Agents of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board arrested 23 persons late Saturday night and early Sunday in a series of raids here and in Allentown, Easton and Freemansburg.

The raids, planned for more than a month, were carried out simultaneously by 56 agents aided by 50 state and local police. The agents were from Allentown, Wilkes-Barre and Philadelphia divisions.

The raiders arrested 15 in Allentown, four in Bethlehem, three in Freemansburg and one in Easton. All those arrested were charged with illegal sale.

$995 plus shipping costs. It went almost immediately, said a store spokesman, much to the dismay of a young couple who at 1 p.m. were about to enter the store to buy "the vacation house up on the eighth floor."

Lines of people began forming behind police barricades even before the doors opened at 3 a.m.—an hour and a half earlier than usual.

A store spokesman estimated at 1 p.m. there had been 20,000 people in the store, entering at the rate of 4,000 an hour.

Most of the people were not regular customers of the Madison Avenue store which attracts businessmen on their lunch hour with such things as fishing lessons.

Executives, secretaries and any other store employees who could be found were pressed into service as salespeople.

"I'm only a secretary. I don't even know what I'm doing here," said one girl at a main floor entrance. "They're buying everything."

The sale was to continue today and Wednesday, during regular hours.

British 'hooligans' blamed for riot

LONDON (AP)—Home Secretary James Callaghan blamed "hooligans" Monday for causing violence at political demonstrations, but refused demands for further police powers aimed at countering riots.

Callaghan told the House of Commons he rejected opposition Conservative lawmakers' demands that massive demonstrations be banned and police and courts be given wider powers. The demands came after an anti-Vietnam war rally outside the American Embassy Sunday erupted in violence. Forty-eight persons were arrested and 37 hurt. Elements of the mob later stoned the Hilton Hotel and the Playboy Club.

Callaghan, Britain's chief law enforcement officer, said: "The police once more showed exemplary patience in dealing with a comparatively small number of hooligans."

Callaghan pledged London police "my full support in measures to combat mob violence," but said "no one could prevent a group of troublemakers attaching themselves to a demonstration."

Callaghan added he and the police knew of other demonstrations that were being planned and believed that violence may again be attempted but gave the House no details.

Groups of arrested demonstrators began appearing in London magistrates' courts Monday. Two men were fined $12 each for using threatening behavior. Nine were ordered to appear at a later date to face related charges. The others will be appearing in courts throughout the week.

Police said that only 200 of the estimated 10,000 protesters broke through their lines.

FFA to discuss traffic congestion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Administration said Monday it has summoned its regional directors to a conference here Wednesday on the continuing crisis in air traffic congestion.

In advance of the meeting, FAA deputy administrator David Thomas asked all branches of the aviation industry for information as to what actions they contemplate, or have recommended, to ease the situation.

In his letter, Thomas said the unprecedented increase in air traffic has reached the point of excessive delays in certain areas.

He said the FAA's resources to cope with the traffic growth have been limited, and the agency now finds its capabilities extended to the maximum degree possible.

It is our intent to accomplish changes in such a manner that adverse impact on the flying public will be minimized," he said.

FAA Administrator William F. McKee and other officials have said in recent weeks that it may become necessary to limit FAA control tower services at certain airports where traffic is relatively light, so that personnel and equipment can be transferred to the places of greater need; and to restrict traffic flow to airports that are overly congested.

Thomas said that proposed FAA actions stemming from the meeting with regional directors Wednesday, and from the study of information submitted by aviation industry groups, will be discussed with the industry early in August.

Millersville hikes fees

MILLERSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Tuition cost at Millersville State College will be increased by $100 this fall, it was announced Monday.

Other expenses such as room and board will stay the same. Part-time students will pay $2.50 more per credit and graduate students will pay an additional $4 per credit, it was announced.

School trustees said the increased income will be used solely by the school. Gov. Shafer earlier this year requested the increase.

Dr. Walsh new TAD employe

BARTONSVILLE — Dr. James P. Walsh, of Bartonsville, has been appointed civilian medical officer at the Tobyhanna Army Depot.

The 34-year-old physician is a graduate of Kings College, Wilkes-Barre, and served his internship at the Allentown Osteopathic Hospital.

Prior to his assignment, he served as a professional science representative of the Upjohn Pharmaceutical Corp.

Dr. Walsh is a veteran of the U.S. Coast Guard.

His family consists of his wife, the former Alice Delaney, of Wilkes-Barre, and a three-year-old daughter, Daria.

Sebring announces science meet

STROUDSBURG — Walter Sebring, Monroe County Superintendent of Schools, announced that a special session on evaluating science programs will be held at the summer meeting of the Pennsylvania Science Teachers Association, Aug. 21 at 3 p.m. at Clarion State College.

Two aspects of evaluating science programs will be presented by Dr. Albert F. Eliss, Associate Executive Secretary of the National Teachers Association. The first presentation will consist of an analysis of instructional systems, showing how they are important in planning an evaluation program.

The second presentation will be concerned with scientific literacy, emphasizing what it is and pointing out needed changes in the science curriculum if this goal is to be achieved.

The two presentations are a part of a three-hour course on evaluating science programs which Dr. Eliss has developed in cooperation with Dr. Stuart Westerlund of the U.S. Office of Education. Dr. Eliss is teaching the newly developed course to elementary and junior high school teachers in Nova Scotia this summer, where it is being given its first trial.

Plans are being made to revise the materials, and NSTA plans to use them in a series of institutes for college science teachers and science supervisors in the fall of 1968.

Two of the meetings for college science teachers will be held in cooperation with the NSTA Regional Conferences in Las Vegas and Little Rock, and one with the cooperation of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science in Philadelphia.

A discussion period will be scheduled at the close of the presentations at Clarion when Dr. Eliss will answer questions about the program. He will welcome suggestions for revising or improving the materials presented.

Poisoning remedies offered

STROUDSBURG — Poisoning from agricultural chemicals rarely happens, but if it does, speed is important in treatment. Here are some first aid tips for some of the common cases of poisoning from the Monroe County Extension Service.

If a poison is swallowed and the individual is conscious and not convulsing, the usual procedure is to give milk or water and induce vomiting. Do not induce vomiting if a corrosive substance like lye, acid, kerosene, gasoline, lighter fluid or furniture polish has been swallowed.

When the person has inhaled poisonous gas, carry him to fresh air immediately. Do not make him walk because increased circulation will speed the poison through his system. Loosen tight fitting clothing around the neck and chest; apply artificial respiration and keep the person quiet and warm.

If a poisoned individual is unconscious, tilt the head back for easier breathing. Do not put a pillow under the person's head. Apply artificial respiration if breathing has stopped. Do not give anything by mouth. Get medical attention immediately.

When eyes are affected, hold the eye lids open and flush with a gentle stream of water; continue washing for at least ten minutes even while transporting the person to the medical center.

Persons in convulsions should be kept lying as quietly as possible in a darkened room. Do not give alcohol in any form.

Give first aid immediately when poisoning is suspected but be careful because different types of poisoning may require different treatment. Call a physician at once. Save the poison container with its label and any remaining contents to show to a doctor. Labels list antidotes.

Always destroy empty and unlabeled pesticide containers.

FHA plans new rural aid

HARRISBURG — The Farmer's Home Administration, a rural credit agency, under the department of agriculture has provided financial assistance for 61 separate projects of water systems, sewer systems and recreation centers in the Pennsylvania rural community.

Loans and grants totaling $20,656,350 have been approved and funded for Pennsylvania since the current programs began in 1966.

Water supply problems have been or will be solved for more than 20,000 people in rural Pennsylvania through the completion of 26 water systems.

In the state, 17 rural communities will have combined projects of water and sewer systems for 9,000 people.

Through insurance of private loan financing, FHA also provided for the construction of 11 outdoor recreation centers developed by community associations serving some 10,000 people.

4-Hers ready for show

NEOLA — Six 4-H members are taking a total view of the horse and horse classes in preparation for the judging contests to be held during the Pennsylvania State 4-H Days at University Camp on Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

The group is receiving instruction and practical work under Miss Heather Hendry and her father, Charles, at their home in Neola.

Miss Hendry said the candidates must first be able to identify all parts of the total horse. A written examination of some 60 questions must be taken in addition to oral sessions when the candidate must place a horse in a class giving reasons.

The contestants are being prepared for judging in two conformation classes and two pleasure classes which include Bridal Path Hacks and Western Pleasure class.

The group includes Gail Lipincott, Leslie Richardson,

Sherrill Snyder, Frank Christman, Mary Ann Rennekamp and John Greene.

Four candidates will be selected to attend 4-H Days contests.

ASCS emergency price plan affects area wheat growers

STROUDSBURG — According to the Monroe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office, the Department of Agriculture has moved with an emergency price support action to assure farmers participating in the wheat program a price at least as high as the local government price-support loan rate for their wheat.

Secretary Orville Freeman said, "I am disturbed again this year by reports from some area that farmers are being offered prices less than the local loan rate for their wheat. Unfortunately, in these same areas, many farmers have been unable to take out price-support loans because storage space for wheat is not available."

"I am instructing ASCS offices to extend price support to farmers who find themselves in this situation," he continued. "The offices will purchase wheat from farmers at the local loan rate subject to premiums and discounts for quality, and normal storage charges, thus eliminating the storage requirement. This will enable them to deliver their wheat immediately and will assure that eligible wheat farmers will have an opportunity to get price support on this year's production."

Any wheat delivered by farmers under this price-support procedure will be moved to available storage at other points by the department and added to commodity credit corporation stocks.

"I view this method of support as an emergency action and not preferable to the normal price-support loan whereby farmers retain marketing control of their wheat," Secretary Freeman said. "However, farmers who are participating in the wheat program are entitled to whatever action we can take to guarantee the commitment of the minimum price provided under the support program."

"I urge all wheat farmers to engage in sound and orderly marketing practices and not let their wheat go at a sacrifice price."

"I know that in some area, particularly in the eastern soft wheat producing section, storage has been a serious problem and that supplies may temporarily glut markets at harvest," he said. "In some instances terminal storage is available to producers even though it may be some distance from their normal storage points. This storage provides an alternative to selling on a depressed market and would make it possible for farmers to take out a loan holding their wheat for a better time to market. For those farmers who have no available storage, the purchase provisions of this program will give them an opportunity to get price-support program benefits."

James W. White, Chairman of the Pennsylvania ASC Committee, announced the wheat purchase program will be operative in all Pennsylvania counties for the 1968 wheat crop which farmers will begin to harvest within the next week or ten days. He said, "It was approved for the entire state since storage facilities are quite limited and present prices are at unfavorably low levels.

With harvest season around the corner, prices may tend to go somewhat lower—and this program will guarantee farmers participating in the 1968 wheat program the minimum government support price." Mr. White pointed out the support price which varies by counties—averages about $1.38 per bushel, less discounts and storage, in this state.

Farmers who wish to sell their wheat to the government should make application to their local county ASCS office.

Art display at Center

NEWFOUNDLAND — New directions in art and modern concepts of photography are featured at the second arts exhibit at the Newfoundland Arts Center, Routes 191 and 507 in Newfoundland, during the run of "East Lynne," now through July 27.

Paintings by young artists Nancy Hebard, Mitchell Bills, and Mark Vonnegut have been described by area critics as "attempts to stake out new trails in impressionistic and modernistic art."

Miss Hebard's canvases, all mixtures of impressionism and abstract patterning, colorfully set off the walls. Especially delightful are her works "Juggler" and "Floral." A native of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Miss Hebard has shown her works in various local shows as well as in major showings in the Everhart Museum in Scranton, the National Academy of Design in New York and the Alda Arts Gallery.

The pieces of Mr. Bills, a recent graduate of Abington Heights High School, display deep understanding of texture and color. His watercolor "Subway Scene," and his India ink drawing "City Landscape" are among the first works to catch the viewer's eye as he crosses the Center's threshold.

Mr. Vonnegut, a student at Swarthmore, is the largest single exhibitor of the show. Predominate among his works are abstract portraits done in multi-color motifs.

With the exhibit will be shown a display of sheet music covers from the 1950's. These covers, collected by the Court Players' music director, Miss Jennie Baumann, will set the mood for the Players' presentation of the old-fashioned melodrama "East Lynne."

Lackwaxen approves fees

LACKAWAXEN — Lackawaxen Twp. Supervisors recently passed an ordinance governing construction within the township.

The new ordinance requires persons building a new dwelling or commercial building to make application for a permit, submit the building plans and meet with sanitary and sewage requirements within the township.

The fee for a building permit is $4.

TO STAY YOUNG KEEP HEALTHY

Some people continuously suffer from minor aches and pains, always feel tired; and try every newly advertised remedy without any permanent relief. Unless they do something about it soon, they will soon be old. For, to feel young, you have to be healthy.

Such people should place themselves under the guidance of a physician and do everything he suggests. After making certain by examination and tests there is nothing incurably wrong, let the physician specify what medicines to take, the exercises to do and what diet to follow. The odds are good health will come and lasting youth will follow.

Gypsy moth study should continue

We are in agreement with the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce in its concern about gypsy moths and their presence in the Pocono Mountains.

It is our opinion that the chamber of commerce is right in urging a continued study of the gypsy moth problem throughout Pennsylvania and the damage resulting from their activities.

The chamber calling for a further study of the problem at its meeting on Friday, pointed out that among its duties is the protection of the Poconos.

In recent months there has been a degree of opposition building against spraying against gypsy moths and the opposition has come from several key positions.

However, the great amount of damage inflicted by the moths, which includes the ruin of our woodlands, dictates a continuation of the program.

True, there are instances of damage inflicted by the spray. However, if property owners follow instructions made public by those people entrusted with the task of spraying, damage is so slight that it in no way should curtail the program, which apparently is more needed today than ever before.

There have also been instances of animals and fish being found dead in sprayed areas. If this death is due to the spraying, the problem, as stated by the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, should be studied and a remedy found.

Meanwhile the spraying campaign should continue.

Instant burial

The insurance reform package recently proposed by Gov. Raymond P. Shafer is far from perfect.

Critics have pointed out that the Shafer proposals include some serious flaws. Nonetheless, the package includes needed reforms and the Legislature can always amend it.

We can hardly say as much for legislation introduced in the Senate the other day that would permit the insurance industry in the Commonwealth to set its own rates, without prior approval of the State Insurance Department.

In effect, the bill would reverse the present procedure whereby insurance companies must satisfy the Insurance Department in advance that proposed rate increases are not excessive.

At a time when insurance rates and practices are open to vigorous argument the bill proposed by Sen. John T. Van Sant (R., Lehigh), who just happens to be chairman of the Senate Insurance Committee, deserves instant burial by that committee.

The five-cent postal card for the 25th anniversary of the Women Marines will have first day sale Friday at San Francisco, Calif.

The 12-cent Henry Ford in the Prominent American Series will be released Tuesday, July 30 at Dearborn, Mich. This will be a regular issue replacing the present 12-cent value.

The 50-cent Lucy Stone, also in the Prominent American Series, will have first day sale on Tuesday, August 13 at Dorchester, Mass.

Canada will release a five-cent commemorative for the 150th anniversary of the birth of George Brown, one of the leading journalists of Canada.

Of all the Commemoratives issued by the United States none has ever been issued for the stamp collectors of the nation. It seems to most of us that all collectors should write to the Postmaster General and ask for such an issue.

Our group, stamp collectors, purchases many thousands of dollars worth of all the stamps issued by the United States and these are never used but put in albums, so to my way of thinking such a group should have some recognition especially as other groups already have been so honored by the Post Office Department.

Write the Postmaster General.

Allen - Goldsmith Report

Fight over troop cut

John A. Goldsmith

WASHINGTON — Administration agents, preparing for a session's end Senate battle over withdrawing United States troops from Europe, are maneuvering to block any pullback and avoid a new rebuff for President Johnson's beleaguered foreign policy.

The showdown is scheduled on a withdrawal proposal by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a member of both the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees. He wants to require return of all but one division from the U.S. NATO force, which presently includes the equivalent of six divisions.

Symington intends to offer his plan as an amendment to the defense appropriation bill, and early nose-counts indicate that the final outcome is in doubt. What is certain is that more than half of the Senate would like to vote for a substantial troop reduction.

Fifty committed
More than half of the 100 senators are already committed to a separate Senate resolution urging that a "substantial" troop reduction be made. That resolution is authored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and has broad bi-partisan support.

Against that imposing show of strength the administration has been pressing quiet campaign of persuasion. Harlan Cleveland, U.S. ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), began the missionary work with senators when he visited here several weeks ago.

More recently George C. McGhee, now ambassador at large and recently returned from Germany, has been pressing the administration's case against withdrawal in private talks with senators.

More than 300,000 U.S. troops are stationed in Europe, and their dependents raise the total U.S. contingent to about 600,000. Symington's proposal would deny funds for supporting more than 50,000 troops after December 31, 1968.

Fight deferred
While Symington is billed as the leader of the present drive for troop reductions, it is Mansfield who has pressed the issue over the years. More than two years ago he got the Senate Democratic Policy Committee to approve his resolution stating the view of the Senate that troops should be removed.

Mansfield now heads a special foreign relations subcommittee on the U.S. troop commitment which held hearings earlier this year. In April Mansfield persuaded Symington not to press for approval of his withdrawal plan as an amendment to a pending defense procurement bill.

Symington is now confident that his proposal would have been approved by the senate if he had pressed the issue at that time. Opponents are, privately, inclined to agree.

In the impending showdown, however, senators opposing troop withdrawals may be able to secure a ruling that Symington is trying to write substantial law into an appropriation bill. Under such a ruling, approval of the cut-back proposal would require a two-thirds vote of the senators present.

Even under those unfavorable circumstances Senate insiders think Symington's amendment might win approval — especially if he is willing to make it more attractive to senators who would like to support a major troop reduction but will not trim to a 50,000-man force level.

While Mansfield's resolution mentions no specific numbers, he and some of his co-sponsors have often of leaving a two-division force to show NATO allies that the United States is committed to European defense. Another modification, presently under discussion, would specify 50,000 ground troops and allow for additional air units.

Even if Symington's proposal loses in the Senate, by failing to get a two-thirds vote, or if it later dies in the House, the net result could be a new rebuke for the Administration and its handling of foreign affairs.

Economics involved

Economic concerns are deeply in the troop reduction controversy, along with defense interests and foreign policy issues.

Mansfield argues for a sharp curtailment of the U.S. commitment in Europe wholly on grounds that European nations are now quite able to defend themselves. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, agrees, saying the United States must scale down its overseas obligations.

Symington's arguments draw heavily on the cost of the U.S. troop deployment, estimated by Mansfield at some $800 million-a-year and put as high as $2.5 billion annually by Sen. Milton Young, N.D., senior Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee.

With its expenses in Vietnam and elsewhere and the heavy pressures on the U.S. dollar, Symington says, the United States must end its "economic binge" and stop spending dollars on a six-division force in Europe.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., leading the fight against a troop reduction, says a pull-back now would be "catastrophic." It would, he says, lead to the dismantling of NATO and its coordinated defense of Europe.

Reductions in troop strength may be feasible, Jackson says, but they should be conditioned on a withdrawal of Russian troops from nations of the Warsaw pact.

Still seeking answer

WASHINGTON — Despite all the efforts of State Department officials to explain away my fears, often in the still of the night (and frequently in the frenzy of the day, too), thoughts of the recently-signed nuclear nonproliferation treaty return to haunt me.

Yes, I have written about this before, but then I was concerned with the relatively minor fact that of the five nations which have the bomb, only three signed the treaty agreeing not to pass it out to other countries. Red China and France were notably absent.

But the White House and the State Department were ecstatic over the treaty and released a long list naming other countries which DID sign it. Among these were Chad, Togo, Somalia, El Salvador, Paraguay, San Marino, Botswana, Dahomey, Ghana and places like that.

And that's what bothers me. If it is important that these relatively insignificant countries — which couldn't develop an A-bomb in a thousand years — signed the treaty, then why is it that Upper Volta held back? Obviously, there is more here than meets the eye.

Upper Volta?

After all, if Upper Volta hasn't got the bomb, or doesn't plan to acquire it, then why didn't it sign the treaty? I mean, just to be nice. Certainly it had nothing to lose: Both free world and Iron Curtain countries signed.

(Red China and France are mavericks; Red, China, of course, wants to conquer the world; France simply wants to conquer the United States and Quebec. Other major nonsigners — West Germany, Canada, India, Israel, Switzerland and Sweden — have various problems, but may sign later.)

But what is Upper Volta's excuse? Somewhere in Ouagadougou (that's the capital, you know) are scientists even now huddled around a secret atomic pile? And all this time, we've been thinking that Upper Volta was the most backward nation in Africa.

Perhaps someday the Upper Voltans plan to emerge from the dust of time and strike us all down with atomic warheads. For all we know, it has developed the bomb-tipped spear; and here we are, without even an anti-spear spear. Or perhaps the Upper Voltan general staff has a more fiendish plot.

It could be thinking about tossing A-bombs at Moscow, Washington, London, Paris and Peking simultaneously, then simply sitting back while we destroy each other in an orgy of retaliation. I say we should send a U.N. inspection team to Ouagadougou immediately.

So many of the new F-111s have crashed, the man who designed them is entitled to call himself an ace.

You could find a more interesting diary than Che Guevara's in any girls' school.

Harris survey

Nixon lags behind opponents from ranks of Democratic party

By LOUIS HARRIS

With two weeks to go before the Republican National Convention, Richard Nixon runs behind both his potential Democratic rivals for the presidency.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy continues to maintain a substantial eight-point spread over the former vice president, 42 to 34 per cent, in a three-way contest including former Gov. George Wallace.

By contrast, the Hubert Humphrey-Richard Nixon outcome would be extremely close today; Humphrey's seven point margin in mid-June has slipped to a two-point advantage in mid-July, 37 to 35 per cent.

McCarthy's clear-cut advantage over both Humphrey and Nixon among a national cross section of voters occurs concurrently with a sharp rise in the strength of Wallace. The latter now polls a higher percentage in the South, approximately 35 per cent, than any of his major-party rivals. Outside the South, Wallace has moved past the 10 per cent mark for the first time, polling between 10 and 20 per cent, depending on the opposition. This is double his showing in these parts of the country only a month ago.

The Wallace rise hurts Humphrey most in the relative standings and, if the election were held today, might well throw a Nixon-Humphrey contest into the House of Representatives.

The latest Harris Survey was conducted from July 8 through July 14. Interviews were conducted with a national probability cross section of 2,012 households. These results are based on the replies of 1,569 voters who are most likely to vote after preliminary screening. The Harris Survey will return to the field for another national reading just prior to the Republican convention in Miami Beach on Aug. 5.

With Wallace now running ahead in the South, the critical dimension for the major-party candidates in 1968 is how strongly they run against one another in other parts of the country.

Nixon loses to McCarthy outside the South today by a sizable 36 to 46 per cent, a 10-point spread, running behind in urban and rural areas alike and only making up some ground in Northern small towns. Wallace gets 10 per cent in these areas when McCarthy and Nixon are matched.

Nixon trails Humphrey outside the South by a narrow one-point margin, 38 to 39 per cent, with the Wallace vote at 12 per cent. But Nixon's deficit is greatest in the large urban centers of the industrial states with the biggest number of votes in the electoral college.

Roscoe Drummond

No dovish tactics

WASHINGTON — Will Hubert Humphrey go dovish to win the presidency?

No, he will stand by his convictions even if it hurts politically. He knows that his prospects of winning, if nominated, can be greatly hurt under three conditions:

1-If the hard-core anti-Vietnam democratic liberals are determined to punish him for disagreeing with them.

2-If the country as a whole prefers to keep arguing over the past, sterile issue of whether we should have ever got into the war rather than to deal with the real, present issue of how best to end it.

3-If Humphrey tries to wriggle out of his strong support of our defense of Vietnam in the hope he can pacify one side without alienating the other.

On this last condition, there is no doubt what the vice president is going to do. It can be put down flatly and unqualifiedly that he is not going to wriggle one wriggle, that he is not going to repudiate his convictions, nor try to find some set of words which will appear to dilute them in an effort to persuade the anti-Vietnam voters that he has changed and the pro-Vietnam voters that he hasn't.

That much is a certainty. It will come as a surprise only to those liberal intellectuals and cynics who used to wring their hands over Humphrey's support of the president on Vietnam, hoping and often suggesting that Humphrey was only "going along loyally" with LBJ and didn't really believe what he was saying.

Last forever

These pre-Vietnam "friends" of Hubert Humphrey are probably lost forever because the vice president believed what he said and said what he believed and he is not going to do a suit of many colors for political purposes. He is not going to ask the American people to elect a hypocrite president of the United States.

Humphrey respects and esteems those who honestly feel we made a mistake in going to the rescue of South Vietnam, but, for himself, he takes the opposite view, as he told me during a conversation in his apartment when he was recovering from the flu.

"I believed from the start," he said, "that the decision by the United States to help defend South Vietnam was sensible, sound, and in our national interest."

"As a responsible nation we went into South Vietnam to resist external aggression and I believe it was a necessary and prudent action. I feel we did the right thing at the right time."

"Our purpose was to erect a shield behind which the people of South Vietnam could achieve self-determination, begin to build democratic institutions, and carry forward the economic reconstruction of their nation. These objectives are being achieved."

These are Humphrey's views. He does not intend to blur them or try to escape them.

But Humphrey does not intend to conduct a campaign moored to the past. He feels it would be sterile politics to keep replaying the war, rehearsing the past, when the need now is to center upon how to further a peace settlement in Paris.

Humphrey has always believed that the Vietnam war must and should end in a negotiated political settlement. He now sees such a settlement in the making and hopes that honest divisions over the past can be bridged by centering our minds and energies on the real problem of the present and the future — how to end the war by negotiation.

Since the two most likely presidential nominees — Humphrey and Richard Nixon — agree on the past, that is, that it was wise for the United States to defend South Vietnam, there is a good prospect that they will both encourage the nation not to waste the present by quarreling with the past.

The choice for president would then be: who can better shape the peace?

Your Health

General medical checkup

During our card-playing evenings, some discussion of health always seems to take place. Last night, we found ourselves comparing how many tests some of us have during our regular yearly general health check-up. My husband and I felt we were almost deprived when we learned how few we had had in a recent examination. What kind and how many are really required?

Mrs. M. H. C., New York

There is no relationship between the number of tests and the thoroughness of a complete general examination. I personally believe that many of the "exotic" ones can be dispensed with without doing the patient any injustice. The use of the electrocardiograph, "just because it is there" seems to me a frequent waste of time, energy, and expense when there are not the slightest symptoms to suggest any trouble with the heart. If, in the interval between examinations, there is any suggestion of a sign or symptom then, of course, this instrument should be used.

I am certain that there must be hundreds, truly hundreds of tests of the blood and the urine that would be an utter expensive waste if they were performed without clinical reason and only to impress the patient with modern scientific thoroughness. In the adult, a complete urine analysis and blood count should be included in every examination. The clinical judgment of the trained physician is helped mostly by the stethoscope, the blood pressure machine, the palpation of organs of the abdomen, and the careful scrutiny of blood vessels of the arms and legs.

Czechs present dilemma

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. strategists believe the Soviet Union is caught in a dilemma over Czechoslovakia which will hurt the Kremlin no matter what it decides to do.

For this reason, and because it has figured no way in which the United States could intervene constructively, the Washington establishment from President Johnson down has adopted a strict hands-off policy on what it regards as the most exciting East-European development of the decade.

U.S. spokesmen are withholding public comment except for low-key sympathy for the liberalization movement within Czechoslovakia. As Secretary of State Dean Rusk put it, there is a belief here "that Czechoslovakia should be free to develop its own internal arrangements."

U.S. diplomats likewise are steering clear of official representations to the Russians to be kind to the new Czech leadership. Such moves, it is reasoned, would only strengthen the suspicions of Kremlin hard-liners who see the Prague reforms as an imperialist plot.

As viewed from Washington, the Soviets face this dilemma in dealing with their formerly obedient ally:

—If the Kremlin lets Prague go its own way, liberalization will spread from Czechoslovakia to presently orthodox Communist Poland and East Germany, and eventually into the Soviet Union itself, sapping Moscow's international strength and the Red zeal to bring all lands under communism.

If the Soviets do invade Czechoslovakia the United States does not plan to intervene militarily—and thus risk a nuclear World War III—any more than it did in 1956. In 1968, besides, the United States is deeply embroiled in Vietnam.

A Soviet armed attack on Czechoslovakia would none-the-less have a heavy impact on East-West affairs.

Ann Landers

Should have stayed home

Dear Ann Landers: I am returning to my native Europe after one year in America. Before I leave I am posting this letter of farewell with a few observations. Perhaps it will do you Americans good to know how you look in the eyes of a visitor.

American men are slob. American women are the most vulgar, overdressed, overbearing females on the face of the earth. Your children are insufferable. They are brash, undisciplined, and clearly in control of their parents.

Your newspapers are frightfully trash. Your television programs cater to the lowest common denominator. The commercials are gauche and unappealing. Your radio programs assault the eardrums and are designed for idiots.

Your motorists are 80 per cent suicidal and 20 per cent homicidal. Your one beautiful countryside is fast disappearing behind hideous billboards and orange and green neon signs.

America, which advertises itself as the most prosperous and progressive country in the world, is culturally bankrupt.

The movies which do well are nothing but peephole sex shows. The fine books do not sell. The excellent plays do not survive. Opera is drawing its last breath. Your museums and art galleries are tombs of silence but the bowling alleys, go-go joints and bawdy clubs are crowded. Drunkenness is common place and homosexuals are accepted everywhere.

Now that I have seen America I can go back and tell my friends who long to go there that they should save their money. You have nothing worth seeing or listening to.

GLAD TO BE GOING HOME
Dear Glad: Thank you for your farewell letter. Benjamin

Franklin provided an appropriate response. He said:

"Our country offers to strangers nothing but a good climate, fertile soil, wholesome air (this was written 200 years ago), free government, wise laws, liberty, a good people to live among, and a hearty welcome. Those of other lands who have all these things or greater advantages at home would do well to stay where they are."

Dear Ann Landers: Seven months ago our daughter (age 16) got herself into trouble with a 17-year-old boy. His parents said he could not marry Winifred unless she agreed to move into their home so the boy could finish high school.

Winnie had a miscarriage six weeks after the wedding. I was not surprised. She and her husband went bowling or roller skating almost every night and ate hot dogs and root beer for dinner. The day Winnie had her miscarriage they had spent several hours in the amusement park riding shoot-the-chutes and bump-the-auto.

Winnie quit high school in her junior year when she became pregnant. Her in-laws think she should go to work now and pay something toward their room and board. Her husband has one more year of high school. We say HE should quit school and go to work and support his wife. What do you say?

OUTSIDERS NOW
Dear Now: I say it's a mess. Neither one of them knows any more about marriage than a hog knows about Sunday. They should BOTH stay in school and get diplomas.

In the meantime, I hope you haven't rented Winifred's room. I think she'll be home pretty soon.

In the meantime, I hope rented Winifred's room. I think she'll be home pretty soon.

Dear Ann Landers: Four years ago I did a foolish thing. I let a man move into my apartment without benefit of clergy. He had lost his job and was broke. I felt sorry for him. I was also flattered by his attention because he was nine years younger than I and very good looking. We lived together for almost two years.

When he got a good job, he also got a new sweetheart — someone his own age — and married her. My question is this: Am I legally free of this rat? A woman at work said something about common law marriages. (I am listed on his company insurance policy as his wife).

I'm too shy to talk to a lawyer and I need your help.
SOUTHERN NITWIT

Dear Southern: Beats me how a woman can play house with a man for two years and be too shy to talk to a lawyer. Sorry, but if you want legal advice, you'll have to go to someone who can give it. I can't.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents...if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Pueblo seizure recalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly a half year ago—at noon Jan. 23, Korean time—the small U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo was cruising off Wonsan when a North Korean subchaser appeared with a challenge: "Heave to or I will open fire."

"I am in international waters," the Pueblo replied by international flag signal.

Two hours and 32 minutes later the lightly armed, 908-ton American vessel signed off her last radio transmission after an unequal skirmish with the subchaser joined by three North Korean patrol boats and a flock of MIG jet fighters.

After flaring quickly into international proportions, the Pueblo affair has since settled into a lengthening stalemate between the U.S. and North Korean negotiators at Panmun-jom.

The Pueblo, first taken into Wonsan had since been moved by the North Koreans to a port farther north. The 82 surviving crewmen—one died—still are prisoners somewhere in North Korea, exact whereabouts undisclosed.

The men are believed — from pictures, letters and North Korean reports—to be relatively well physically, though the Koreans have rebuffed U.S. pleas for access to the captives by the International Red Cross or other outsiders.

The State Department took pains last week to deny rumors, reportedly originating in Japan, that Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, 38, had committed suicide.

"The North Koreans recently told us there has been no change in the conditions of the crew since early February" and that word through Panmunjom is interpreted by the State Department as denial of the suicide rumor, press officer Robert J. McCloskey said.

'Waltz Me Around Again' next playhouse attraction

MOUNTAINHOME — "Waltz Me Around Again", a fun-filled comedy for Broadway under the sponsorship of Arthur Canter, will make its bow at the Pocono Playhouse the week of July 29.

The Norman Barasch and Carroll Moore comedy deals with the sparks that follow a short circuit on the marriage line and a young couple's hilarious efforts to repair the damage. Darryl Hickman and Lee Lawson co-star as the contending couple.

Darryl Hickman began his theatre career at the age of six in the film, "The Stormmaker" with Bing Crosby and since then has appeared in over 200 films. On radio he has been heard on "Meet Corliss Archer", "A Date With Judy", and on television he has been seen on "Playhouse 90", "U.S. Steel Hour", "Rawhide", "De. Kildare" and "Ford Theatre" among many others.

Costar Lee Lawson is known to television viewers as "Barbara" on the popular daytime drama, "Love Of Life", and comes to the Playhouse directly from her Broadway hit, "Cactus Flower," in which she was featured as the kooky mistress "Toni". While playing the role of "Nancy" in Mike Nichols' off Broadway production of "The Knack", she was chosen by Joshua Logan to play "Millie" in the musical version of "Picnic" called "Hot September". Broadway also saw her in the title role of "Agatha Sue I Love You".

Following this engagement, academy award winner, Shirley Booth will be seen in her Broadway hit, "The Desk Set". This is a one week only production, Monday night.

Television notes

The new NBC drama series for 1968-69, "Prudential's On Stage," has eight American playwrights working on original scripts that focus on contemporary life. Not all of the plays will be seen in the coming season, for the program will present only five specials in that span. The writers involved are a mixture of video veterans and newcomers — Ron Cowen, Jan Hartman, Israel Horowitz, Nora Johnson, Ernest Kinoy, Leonard Melfi, Rod Serling and David Shaw.

Opening lead—ace of hearts. It is said that the first thing a beginner learns is how to finesse and the last thing he learns is when not to finesse. There is certainly more truth than poetry in this observation, and today's hand, taken from a tournament, serves as a good illustration of the point.

You may not agree with the bidding, but that's the way it went. West led the ace of hearts, felling the king, and shifted to the ace and a low diamond. Declarer won in dummy with the king, ruffed a heart, and continued with a low trump, planning to finesse if West followed low. But West put up the king, forcing the ace, and declarer continued with the queen on which West showed out.

Faced with a sure trump loser, South now had to avoid a club loser to make the contract. You might think that declarer would lead a low club from dummy at this point and finesse the jack to go down one, but South did much better than that.

He did lead a club, but went up with the ace, continued with the king, and easily made the contract when he caught West's doubleton queen. The only tricks South lost were a heart, a diamond, and a trump. South used exceptionally good judgment in refusing to take the club finesse. He knew from the bidding that West had at least ten cards in the red suits and that he consequently could not have more than two clubs. Finessing the jack of clubs could not gain since, even if the finesse succeeded because East had the queen, East would still have a club trick coming. A further reason for rejecting the tempting finesse was the strong likelihood that West had the queen of clubs as part of his bidding values.

Fancy salad always welcome

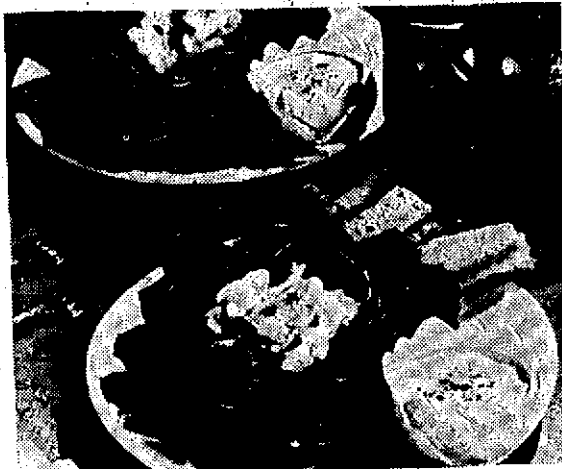

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Take your choice.
We suggest that you serve a crab salad in artichoke shells. But there's no rule about this.
If it suits your fancy, turn another way. Serve the salad in avocado halves or in tomato shells.

Whichever holder you choose, this is a good salad to offer when "the girls" come to lunch. Because how les girls—be they 16 or 60—love salad!

Something crisp is needed with this main luncheon dish. We choose sesame toast. To make it, butter thinly sliced bread copiously, then cut each slice into four triangles. Sprinkle generously with sesame seed and place on a cookie sheet. Bake in a 325-degree oven until crisp and brown—usually about 25 minutes.

Crab and Artichoke Salad
2 cans (each 7½ ounces) king

To impress "the girls" serve them a luncheon of crab salad in artichoke shells.

crab Sour Cream Dressing (see recipe)
4 artichokes, cooked and chilled.
Drain the crab. Mix the small pieces of crab with ½ cup of dressing; cut the large pieces of crab smaller and fold in.

Pull out the center leaves from the cooked artichokes; with a sturdy spoon, remove the choke from each and discard.

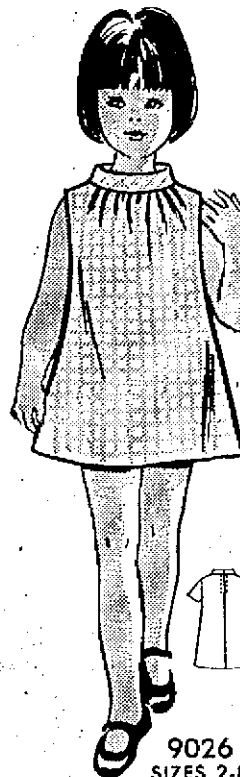

Divide the crab mixture among the artichoke shells.
Serve the remaining Sour Cream Dressing in individual containers as a dip for the artichoke leaves.
Makes 4 servings.

Sour Cream Dressing
1 container (8 ounces) commercial sour cream
¼ cup catsup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
In a mixing bowl, stir together the sour cream, catsup, Worcestershire, onion, lemon juice, salt and mustard. Makes 1½ cups. Use as suggested in the Crab and Artichoke Salad recipe.

Retarded children given picnic

MT. BETHEL — The Monroe County Chapter for Retarded Children recently held a picnic for approximately 90 youngsters and counselors at Camp Robert F. Mill, Mt. Bethel.

Assisting with the picnic were Mrs. Calvin Bush, Mrs. James B. Grover, Mrs. Henry Koenig, Mrs. Walter Leonard, Mrs. George Levin, Mrs. Olive Pansy, Mrs. Harry Rider, Mrs. Walter R. Strunk, Mrs. Hazel C. West and Camp Director Frank Vari.

The Robert F. Mill Camp is in its fourth summer. Incorporated in the Spring of 1965, it opened that summer to serve a total of 67 campers. The land was part of the estate of the late Robert F. Mill that was left to deserving children.

It is a 67 acre estate where retarded persons from Monroe, Northampton and Lehigh Counties are brought to have five days a week for games and activities under the direction of Frank Vari.

A residential care center is operated on a part time basis for retarded persons when their parents or guardians are sick or vacationing.

Reporter's Notebook

Stop, think then act

By RICK METHOT

Pocono Record Reporter

STROUDSBURG — It has been nearly two months since an assassin's bullets ripped into the head and body of Robert F. Kennedy eliminating him from existence - it will be five years this November since the horror of a Dallas motorcade November 22, 1963, left the President of the United States limp and dying in the bloodstained arms of his wife and first lady.

Two brothers, one a President of his country, the second a potential president lie buried now - as forgotten as time seals away the dead by the time they had been striving to reach.

Both had been mercilessly slaughtered in cold blood by a spray of bullets, Lee Harvey Oswald, whose life had been a tragic failure used the mechanic skill of a Marine sharpshooter to bring the crosshairs of telescopic sights to the head of a Nation's leader.

Sirhan Sirhan, a young Jordanian gripped a small calibre pistol to fire a bullet into the brain of Bobby Kennedy.

Whatever motives there had been for the act of each, as conjecture still is woven among theorists to account for the act by the shiftless Oswald and an American jury will decide the fate of Sirhan, the facts remain devastatingly obvious, as easily as a child raises a slingshot to tell a calbird two men almost nonchalantly clutched their weapons and blazed away

Counterman services held

EAST STROUDSBURG — Funeral services for James E. Counterman, 66, Front St., Easton, were held Monday in the Lanterman Funeral Home with the Rev. William F. Wunder officiating.

Burial was in the Sand Hill Cemetery, Bushkill.

at other men - an act in itself, unbelievable, insane, tragic, and morally wrong.

Saturday morning, shifted in page one prominence due to a local storm, appeared an almost shocking revelation and perhaps a sickening indictment of the hate element in this society of ours that brandishes as club of radical conservatism, racial bigotry, and extreme fanaticism in the type that once held former Chief Justice Earl Warren, as its number two enemy.

On a single page of a small town newspaper ran two separate stories of coming legal proceedings against assassins. One of a presidential candidate and one who allegedly slew the Nations foremost Civil Rights Leader.

It is impossible to ascertain reasons for guilt, it is impossible to blame a single element yet it seems, even as Monroe County's Inter-Racial Council is seeking to eliminate, there is an element of hate in this country - venomous hate that produces the tragedies of Dallas, Los Angeles, and Memphis.

It is hate and ignorance that brings the pitiful oaths that hiss, "Nigger lovers" and unfortunate ignorance of such blatant irony in the declaration, "If anyone comes to register my gun I'll shoot 'em!"

When an element of our society wraps itself in the cloak of indignant hate, of the same as those extremists who would have us believe that "Communism" should be a scapegoat for all our troubles, it can only produce irrational minds, and irrational acts.

Hubert Humphrey, now supposedly the frontrunner for the Democratic party's presidential nomination had no notion of the grave timeliness of these words: "That emotional instability that afflicts a significant but small minority in our midst that some call the extreme right, some call the Birchers, some the wild men of reaction... they still see the world in total black and white... They are still substituting dogma for creative thought."

Humphrey added that, "the act of an emotionally unstable person or irresponsible citizen can strike down a great leader."

The speech was made November 21, 1963, the night before his words bore a shocking meaning.

One of John F. Kennedy's key advisors said this after the tragic slaying, "We let the Right inject this poison in the American - bloodstreams, and this is the result."

The Nation, our Nation, does not breed the sickness - the disease lies in the small minority - the extremists - the breeders of hate who will continue as opportunity arises to seek their ends through murder, flames, and anarchy.

The only hope lies in the fibre of the Nation itself, the Democracy of equality - the true American patriotism and love of what we hold dear as the late Woody Guthrie reminded us in his lines, "This land was made for you and me."

A Nation united leaves no room for hate.

Mrs. Langkamer, Kresgeville, dies in Bethlehem at 93

KRESGEVILLE — Mrs. Emma S. Langkamer, 93, of Kresgeville, formerly of Lehigh, died Sunday in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Langkamer, 1545 Kadel Drive, Bethlehem.

Mrs. Langkamer, born in Towamensing Twp., was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koch. She lived in Lehigh for 63 years and for the last 12 years lived with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Christman of Kresgeville. She was visiting in Bethlehem when she was stricken ill.

She was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, Lehigh. Her husband, G. Charles Langkamer, died March 20, 1956.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Laura Kuder, of Mount Holly, N.J.; Mrs. Lulu Smoyer of Orefield, and Mrs. Christian; three sons, C. Lang of Hollywood, Fla.; Carl of Lehigh, and J. Richard of Bethlehem; 10 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, and three great great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in Lamont H. Zimmerman Funeral Home, Lehigh.

Two accidents near Milford, no injuries

MILFORD — State Police from Milford Monday investigated two accidents. They reported no injuries in either crash.

The first accident, a two-car crash, was reported at 11:15 p.m. and was on Rt. 6, about seven miles west of Milford.

Drivers were John Taschuk of Jermyan R.D. and Dermot Fuiceto of Macedon, N.Y.

Police said Taschuk was traveling east and attempted to pass another car going in the same direction. After getting out in the westbound lane he saw he could not complete the pass. He applied his brakes, lost control and collided with the Fuiceto car.

Police estimate damage at $600 to the Taschuk car and $400 to the Fuiceto vehicle.

At 12:20 p.m., police were called when Gerald T. Carlson of Union City, N.J., crashed into guard rails on Rt. 739.

Police said the driver was rounding a curve in the highway at an excessive speed. Carlson lost control and skidded off the highway and struck the guard rails.

Damage is estimated at $75 to the car.

Fellowship Church purchases Pinebrook

Property valued at $500,000

ALLENTOWN — Pinebrook Conference Center, north of Stroudsburg, will be the new site of the summer camp grounds of the Bible Fellowship Church next summer.

No purchase price for the center was disclosed. However, a source indicated that Pinebrook was valued at $500,000. A down payment has been placed on the property and the Bible Fellowship Church will take over the property on August 30.

Mizpah Grove, Allentown, the summer camp grounds for the Bible Fellowship Faith for 58 years, observed its last services on Sunday, July 21.

In leaving Allentown, Mizpah Grove becomes one of the last of the old time religious camps to be modernized.

The 25 acres which Mizpah Grove occupied has been bought by the Allentown School District for the construction of a new Junior High School.

Also involved in the move is the Fellowship's Berean Bible School located on S. Hall Street in Allentown. The school which has been in Allentown since 1950, will move to the Pinebrook area in the fall of 1969.

At Pinebrook, motel accommodations will replace the 30 year old tents which were a trademark of the campers. Also the children will have greater recreational facilities at their disposal.

In regard to the move, District Superintendent Rev. A. L. Seifert said, "This type of camp has outlived its time. At Pinebrook the children will have an outdoor and indoor pool, the congregation will have a year-round, heated auditorium capable of seating 800 as well as more smaller meeting rooms."

Living in tents can have its disadvantages, as Rev. Seifert pointed out. "During Friday night's storm, several tents and trees were blown down. We moved everyone into the tabernacle, but the open sides didn't keep out the downpour." The Fellowship campers will get their first look at Pinebrook on Labor day when the Rev. R. C. Leslie Miller of Glendale, Calif., will speak during open house ceremonies.

Rev. Miller is the former pastor of the Bethel Bible Fellowship Church on 8th Street in Allentown.

The Rev. A. L. Seifert, superintendent of the Bible Fellowship Church and director of Mizpah Grove campmeetings will direct the camp at Pinebrook during its first year.

Rev. P. T. Stengle, a retired pastor who lives in Allentown, spoke on the early days of the grove at the final service on Sunday night.

Other speakers included the Rev. Jansen E. Hartman, president of the Berean Bible School, Rev. Seifert and the Rev. James Hatch, who served as the past week's principle speaker at the camp.

Girl placed on probation

STROUDSBURG — An East Stroudsburg girl was sentenced to two years probation and ordered to pay court costs and fees after pleading guilty to charges of passing worthless checks.

Donna L. Van Brook, East Stroudsburg, was arrested in June after passing worthless checks.

Order for the probation was issued Monday by President Judge Arlington W. Williams.

Pinebrook Conference Center in Stroud Township has been purchased by the Bible Fellowship Church. It will be the new summer camp site of the Church which formerly held its summer meetings in Mizpah Grove in Allentown. Campers will occupy the Center in the summer of 1969. (Staff photo by MacLeod)

The Pocono Record

The Stroudsburgs, Pa. — Tues., July 23, 1968 Dial 421-3000

Jaycee Fresh Air Project

City kids enjoy Pocono air

STROUDSBURG — The Pocono Mountain Jaycee's Fresh Air Program is more than just a week in the country for underprivileged boys and girls stuck in a city slum year in and year out.

It's floating down the rapids of a creek in an inner tube, catching tadpoles, riding a bike through uncongested streets and running barefoot (not through a city park) but on the grass of a somebody's front lawn with the next door neighbor not even giving a second glance to the child's color, white, brown, black or in between.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Kernaghan of 1718 Laurel Drive, Stroudsburg who last year took into their home a Negro brother and sister from Philadelphia for a week in August are already signed up for another city child this year.

The Pocono Mountain Jaycees will again sponsor, along with the Philadelphia Jaycees, a Fresh Air Program in August.

The local chapter hopes to sign up 20 to 25 area families who will accommodate a deserving child during the week of August 10-17.

The children will be between the ages of eight to 15, with host families having preference to age and sex.

Kernaghan who taught seven years in the Philadelphia School System, and most of that time in the slum area, said he noticed no overt cases of bigotry last summer when Pudge, 10 and Florence, 12 came up from Philadelphia to spend a week in the Kernaghan home.

"We were hoping some of Pudge's and Florence's manners would rub off on our own family," Kernaghan said Monday. The Kernaghans have four children, three girls and a boy.

Florence needed a bike. "A neighbor loaned us his daughter's bike for a week," Kernaghan said.

Both Pudge and Florence knew how to swim but they had never splashed around in a country creek or floated down its rapids in an inner tube. They were used to the hustle and bustle of crowded city municipal pools.

Many of the children come from orphanages and all are selected by the Philadelphia Jaycees. Host families have no other obligation other than providing food and lodging.

Interested persons should contact Barry Klingel no later than Wednesday, at 421-0783 if they are planning to give an underprivileged child a week's vacation in the Poconos.

To walk past a row of pine trees instead of a row of garbage cans, to stand on a hill rather than a manhole cover, to kick your feet in a stream instead of a stream of water from a city hydrant—these are just some of the fine threads interwoven in the thousand and one dreams of the invisible child waiting to get out of a city slum.

One week isn't much, but it's better than nothing, isn't it?

Commissioners authorize reevaluation of county

STROUDSBURG — A resolution which will officially begin the work of the Chief Assessor and the Tax Study Committee in reevaluating the tax structure of Monroe County was passed Monday by the county commissioners.

The reevaluation, originally presented to the commissioners at their June 20 meeting, would use land values according to existing use of land and adjustment to cost of construction of improvements.

The estimated cost of the undertaking is $50,000.

Also presented at that meeting was a plan for a total reassessment of the county by an outside firm, at an estimated cost of $320,000. At a subsequent meeting, the commissioners rejected that in favor of the reevaluation.

The resolution spells out the necessity for the plan, noting the length of time since the 1957 reassessment, and "inequities" which have appeared since that time, and gives the Tax Study Committee and the Chief Assessor authorization to proceed. The resolution passed the commissioners unanimously.

Previously, Commissioner Nancy Shukaitis had presented a resolution similar to the one passed Monday, but Chairman Elwood Hintze and Commissioner Arlington Martin did not act upon it because of insufficient time to study it.

The approved resolution spells out the Pennsylvania Act 70, limiting school districts to 110 per cent of their last year's funds and municipalities to 105 per cent following such a reevaluation.

In other business, the commissioners approved the borrowing of $100,000 for 90 days from the First Stroudsburg National Bank at three per cent interest.

The commissioners approved the hiring of a new caseworker trainee for the Children's Bureau of Monroe County, following a request from Melvin Sweeney, executive director.

The caseworker trainee, Mrs. Donna Martone of Sciota, was previously approved by the Advisory Commission of the Children's Bureau and had been interviewed by Sweeney.

Sweeney told the commissioners that the hiring of Mrs. Martone would bring the number of caseworkers to three.

Judge rearranges court's calendar

STROUDSBURG — President Judge Arlington W. Williams Monday issued a court order which postpones the scheduled September term until the second week in October.

The change, adopted as an amendment to the Rules of the Court of Common Pleas of Monroe County, sets the following dates for the four yearly sessions of court.

"Beginning the second Monday of February, second Monday of May, second Monday of October, and second Monday of December, and continuing three weeks in each term or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that in addition thereto the Courts of the Quarter Sessions of the Peace and Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, when required shall have called a Grand Jury to consider the business of these Courts four times in every year, at the Court House, at Stroudsburg, Monroe County."

The order decrees that the Grand Jury will meet the fourth Tuesday of January, April, September, and November, and continuing through such term as may be necessary.

The amendment, which takes effect immediately, was ordered, according to Judge Williams because as originally scheduled would run concurrently with Pike County Calendar.

Judge Davis issues verdict

Naomi club wins liquor board appeal

STROUDSBURG — Former President Judge Fred W. Davis, Monday issued a 13-page opinion in Monroe County Court sustaining an appeal by an area resort club against the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

With Judge Davis "specially presiding" an appeal was upheld from the Lake Naomi Club, Lake Naomi, against the Board, who had refused previously to grant application for a club liquor license to the Lake Naomi appellant.

According to the papers filed Monday, the LCB refused to issue the license because the Tobyhanna Twp. quota calls for one license for retail sale of alcoholic beverages, and allegedly there are now three in effect, also eight liquor and one club license that are not held against the quota.

The board also maintained that there is no evidence of necessity for an additional liquor license.

Logan B. Steele, is president of the Club which claims 500 members, some 400 own land in the Lake Naomi Development. A restaurant liquor license is held under a separate entity, the Lake Naomi Recreation Club.

Appellant maintains that the license would be needed if the restaurant license were transferred, or surrendered for cancellation.

According to precedents there is no provision in the Liquor Code Act, of April 12, 1951, for the exchange of one type of license for another, as would be the case if the restaurant license would be exchanged for the club license.

Davis said however, "Treating the instant proceeding as a new application for a club liquor license we would be obliged to sustain the Board's refusal, were it not for the provisions of Article IV, Section 461 (b) of the Liquor Code, 47 PS Sec. 4-46."

"The board shall have the power to increase the number of licenses in any such municipality which in the opinion of the board is located within a resort area."

Davis added, "In the instant case, the appellant's liquor license was refused by the board upon a single ground: lack of evidence of 'necessity' for an additional club license. With relation to an application for a license of this type, it is apparent that the board applied the wrong criterion of 'necessity' by measuring it according to the needs of the club membership."

In a State Supreme Court decision, Justice Michael Eagen said, in part, "the term 'actual necessity' in determining the need for a liquor license, will be given broad consideration so as to mean substantial need in relation to the pleasure, convenience, and general welfare of the persons who would make use of the facility."

Eastburg awards contracts

EAST STROUDSBURG — The East Stroudsburg School Board Monday awarded a three-year school bus contract to the W. R. Cramer Trucking Inc., Stroudsburg.

The contract calls for Cramer to supply 11 new 1968 buses on a rental bases to the school, eight of which will be delivered to the school on its opening day, September 4, and the three remaining buses to be delivered by November 1.

Cramer, Monday's low bidder by nine-tenths of a cent, will charge the school 24 cents a mile for 11 school bus routes. Under the contract the school agrees to supply gas, oil, and drivers.

The board voted, 5-3, to accept Cramer's bid. Board members voting yes were Walter Stem, Dr. Richard W. Krueger, William Luckey, Ernest Farmer and Martin Smith. Ralph Turn, Theodore Regina and Samuel Kupiszewski voted against the motion.

The board approved to advertise for bids to sell nine school buses, ranging in years from 1959 to 1965. Bids will be opened during the regular school board meeting on Monday, August 19.

Previously the school owned and operated its buses. The reason for the change from ownership to a lease contract was that the board felt it could not maintain the buses due to lack of a garage to service the buses. Also the School's bus mechanic retired this year.

The three other school boards in the county lease buses from contractors.

The Stroudsburg Area School Board leases 22 buses and owns one for inter-school athletic contests plus other nearby school activities.

The Pocono Mountain School Board operates 13 buses and leases 12 other buses for a total of 25 buses.

The Pleasant Valley School Board has 15 buses on a private contract arrangement. The contractors supply drivers, gas and oil.

State police pull 'triple play'

STROUDSBURG — What happened twice happened the third time for State Police at Stroudsburg Monday. They investigated three accidents within four hours.

The first accident, a one-car crash, injured two New York City women. They were taken to General Hospital of Monroe County where they were treated and released.

Taken to the hospital were Esther V. Dudley, 68, driver of the car and Katherine K. Dudley, 70, a passenger.

According to police, the car was traveling east on Interstate Rt. 80, near the Tannersville exit, when the driver apparently turned the steering wheel too far.

The car jumped the guard rails and went down a 70 foot embankment.

Damage is estimated at $300. A Stroudsburg, R.D. 4, girl received cuts to her arm in the second accident investigated.

Rauchelle Colio, a passenger in a car driven by Ruth Neibert, 20, of Mechanicsburg, told police she would see her family doctor.

This accident occurred on Rt. 209 in front of Blue Ridge Inn.

State Police said Chester Kowalski, 23, of Jermyon, pulled onto Rt. 209 from a private drive, and the two vehicles collided.

Damage is estimated at $200 to the Kowalski car and $300 to the Neibert vehicle.

The third accident occurred at 3:55 p.m. at the intersection of Rt. 209 and a legislative route leading to Hotel Pines, near Marshalls Creek. There were no injuries reported.

The driver, Louis Ventura, 56, of J.L., N.Y., and Robert Flynn, 17, of Cliffside Park, N.J., were both traveling north on 209, police said.

Ventura attempted to pass the Flynn vehicle when Flynn made a left turn into the legislative route and the two cars collided.

Damage is estimated, at $75 to the Ventura car and $125 to the Flynn vehicle.

Inter-racial group sees somber play

STROUDSBURG — The Inter-Racial Council of Monroe County turned to the "Dramatic Arts" Monday night to illustrate the divisions of society and economic standing in our Nation.

During a well-attended session of the council in the Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Mrs. Janet Arnold and Mrs. Marie Rutt portrayed the elements of affluence and poverty in the one-act, 45-minute production done with taste and exceptional skill by the two lone characters.

"Two in a trap," has its one scene set in an elevator, the elevator is in the entrance of Lake Towers, a high rise apartment building on Chicago's South Shore. From its twenty-ninth floor there is a fine view of the lake, and its windows all face lakeward.

Its back is to the slums where the brick buildings of downtown merge into the decayed flats of the South Side. It is about 4 p.m. when shadows fall in the doorways before the city lights go on.

Into the elevator walks Grace

Mrs. Janet Arnold, left, and Mrs. Marie Rutt, sit in a simulated elevator during a scene from play, which tells the story of economic and social injustices. (Staff photo by MacLeod)

— Mrs. Rutt, in her role as a "Woman of affluence" — inside the elevator, shabbily dressed sits a lone frail figure on a stool in front of the push-button panel — Mrs. Arnold, as Opal, a client of the welfare department.

The entire play presents the gap between the two and the rising hostility of Opal toward Grace — the wealthy element.

Dialogue flows evenly until Opal turns into a tirade against her antithesis the now obviously nervous, Grace, who believes she is trapped in the elevator suspended between floors with a "manic depressive."

In characterizing the difference between the pair Opal notices a medallion in the shape of a bug on the expensive looking dress of Grace — inquiring she is told it is a wasp and then Grace adds the almost pitifully comic explanation.

"I belong to a nature group. We feel very strongly about insects, she says haughtily, "and their part in preserving the balance of nature. There is grave danger, under the onslaught of modern chemicals." She adds the clincher, "We feel it's something every American should be alarmed about."

Opal almost stunned asks — "How do you feel about people?" Finally Grace becomes aware of the problems of people like Opal and finds herself wanting to help — in her capacity.

But Opal, I want to help, honestly I do," she pleads, "I'd be desperate too in your condition."

Opal takes a long stare and almost hisses, "Sister, you are in my condition."

The play ends with Grace thrust out of the elevator at her stop while the despondent Opal remains inside with the elevator climbing to the building top. Grace remains screaming wondering what will happen and what her conscience will do to her.

Following the play, the audience and council members were divided into small groups to discuss the message of the production.

A general discussion followed.

Gen. William D. Eckert, Commissioner of Baseball, presents plaques to Joe Medwick, Leon (Goose) Goslin and Mrs. Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler at induction ceremonies into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N. Y. Monday.

(UPI Telephoto)

Medwick, Goslin, and Cuyler inducted into Hall of Fame

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI)—Joe Medwick, Goose Goslin and the late Kiki Cuyler were inducted into the Hall of Fame Monday after which the Detroit Tigers rocked the Ostega Lake country with 13 hits and a 10-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In a gala country-fair setting that drew 9,790 fans some of whom paid scalpers prices of $9 for a $2.50 grandstand seat, the Tigers put on what they hope was a World Series premier as Don Wert, Ray Oyler, and Mickey Stanley led the attack with home runs.

Detroit scored four times in the first inning as Wert delivered a three-run homer.

The Tigers added two more in the third on a bases-loaded single by catcher Jim Price and Oyler's leadoff homer, a single by Stanley, a walk to Norm Cash and Gates Brown's single made it 8-0 in the fourth.

Detroit was deficient defensively with five errors, one of which led to Pittsburgh's only run. Donn Clendenon drove it in with a single in the fifth after a two base fielding miscue by right fielder Wayne Comer on a fly by Manny Mota.

Stanley's homer in the sixth and a double by Price, an infield out and a throwing error by Gary Kolb at third base in the seventh completed the scoring.

In the induction ceremonies at the new Hall of Fame library, commissioner William D. Eckert, presented plaques to Mrs. Hazen Cuyler, widow of the great National League slugger, and to the two other great outfielders, Medwick and Goslin.

Mrs. Cuyler, in her acceptance, said "baseball was Kiki's life and it was a good life. I am proud and grateful for him."

Goslin, who played from 1921 through 1938 in the American League, mainly with Washington, was filled with emotion as he received his plaque. His voice broke as he said "This is my happy day, — I will never forget it and I will take it to my grave."

Medwick, who took a .324 lifetime batting average into the shrine, said "This day has been a long time coming."

"I have been fortunate all my life to be associated with the gentlemen in the great game of baseball, but I never realized when I started out in 1932 that I would wind up here," he added.

Eckert, surveying the hefty batting averages of the trio, said "I think we need these men with us in the major leagues today." Cuyler had a .324 career average and Goslin wound up at .315.

The Hall of Fame library, dedicated Monday, has the writings of most of the great baseball scribes, dating back to the legendary period when Abner Doubleday started it all in 1839.

Team 1 rolls to 3rd win

STROUDSBURG — Team One put on the top offensive show of the season in the Senior Basketball League Monday night enroute to a 96-63 victory over Team 4.

Now 3-0 the winners had four boys in double figures led by Bill Weber's 29. Dale Marsh added 19, Mike McMann 13 and Ron Ony 12. For the losers (0-2) Emele had 18, Joe Durkhan, 16, Vince McHugh 14 and Harbison 11.

Team 1 13-1-27, Ony 6-0-12, Marsh 9-1-19, McMann 6-1-13, Featherman 1-0-8, Pfeiffer 4-0-8, Glenick 4-1-9, Funk 3-0-6. Totals: 49-4-99.

With 17-hit attack

Cubs thump Giants, 7-2

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs, sparked by Willie Smith's two-run, pinch double, exploded for their season high of 17 hits Monday in thumping the San Francisco Giants 7-2.

Smith socked a two-run, tie-breaking double in the eighth inning and then the Bruins scored three more times in the ninth on four singles and an error by Giants' second baseman Ron Hunt.

The Cubs obtained Smith, a part-time pitcher and outfielder, on June 28 from Cleveland in a deal for "Sweet" Lou Johnson.

Smith delivered at the expense of loser Frank Linzy (4-7) with two out in the eighth after Al Spangler took first on a fielder's choice and Adolfo Phillips smashed a hard single which third baseman Jim Davenport couldn't handle. Willie came up for pitcher Joe Nickro and powered the ball to right center for two bases and two runs.

The smash helped Nickro pick up his ninth win against six losses. Linzy had taken over in the sixth after starter Ron Herbel went out for a pinch hitter.

Bob Barton tied the score for San Francisco, 2-2, in the fifth when he doubled and moved the rest of the way around on Hal Lanier's sacrifice and pinch hitter Dave Marshall's sacrifice fly.

The Cubs took a 2-1 lead in the third which featured Glenn Beckert's sixth straight hit over a span of two games. Don Kessinger led off with a single and went to third on a double by Beckert who had singled his first time up and now has hit safely in 27 straight games. After one out, Herbel intentionally passed Ron Santo to load the bases and Banks followed with a run-scoring, bloop single. Spangler's sacrifice fly brought across the second run.

A double by Willie Mays and Willie McCovey's single put San Francisco ahead 1-0 in the first.

Gene Oliver faces surgery

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs placed Gene Oliver on the disabled list Monday and sent him home to undergo surgery for a torn cartilage in his knee.

Oliver, a veteran catcher and first baseman outfielder, first injured the knee in 1966, then ripped the cartilage this month while sliding into base against Pittsburgh.

Dow Jones falls 13.60 points

Market in sharp decline

NEW YORK (UPI) — The market turned down with a vengeance Monday. Prices, which had declined gradually by day last week, went into a steep decline, particularly among the blue chips and certain specialties and glamors.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, indicator of the investment grade issues, fell 13.60 points to 900.32, its steepest decline in more than 15 months.

The reasons? Analysts attributed the slide to a number of them. One was the tension between Russia and Czechoslovakia, turning many traders jittery.

Another was the discouraging business news, which included indications that the economy is in a cooling off period as shown by the slower growth rate of the gross national product.

In addition, the steelworkers are taking a strike vote Tuesday, with the belief general they will vote for a walkout at the July 31 deadline.

Good news was virtually nonexistent.

The United Press International stock market indicator lost 1.54 to 125.24 on 1,549 issues traded. Declines outnumbered advances by a better than 4-to-1 ratio — 1,105 to 284. There were 39 new lows, 34 new highs.

The New York Stock Exchange index showed a loss of 67 cents in the average common share price.

Volume totaled 13,530,000 shares against 14,620,000 shares Friday.

Institutional participation in the market was only moderate with 44 blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded.

Of the 15 most active issues, 10 were losers, three gainers and two unchanged.

Top active issue was Occidental Petroleum with 327,400 shares. It closed off 2 1/2 to 44.

Fourth most active was Hooker Chemical, closing up 1 1/2 to 32 1/2 on 216,800 shares. Only a few details remain before Hooker is absorbed into Occidental's corporate structure.

AMEX Index 55.88 off 0.72

Dow Jones Ind. 900.32 off 13.60

S&P 500 Stocks 99.33 off 1.13

Second most active issue was American Telephone, up 1 1/2 to 52 1/2 on 216,900 shares. In third place was Imperial Corp., which finished unchanged at 15 1/2 on 180,300 shares.

No blocks of 20,000 shares or more figured in any transactions involving the three top issues. The New York Stock Exchange, which heretofore listed all blocks of 10,000 shares or more, henceforth will list only those 20,000 and up.

A feature of the market was Atlantic Richfield, which traded for the first time since last Tuesday. It closed up 2 1/2 to 177 on 102,000 shares and was 14th most active.

Late last week the company quoted a consultant as saying its oil-gas discovery in Alaska was potentially one of the world's richest.

Jersey Standard, which also has an interest in the strike, gave up 2 to 77 1/2. The issue has had a sharp runup last week and Monday even reported excellent earnings for the half year period. It was the eighth most active issue.

Pennzoil in the same group fell to profit taking. A gainer of more than 11 last week, it gave up 8 to 192.

Steels were lower on the gloomy labor situation. Jones & Laughlin gave up 1 1/2 to 65 1/2, U.S. Steel 1/4 to 39 1/2.

Continental Steel, which hadn't been traded for most of last week, gained 9 1/2 to 62 after disclosure that Penn-Dixie Cement Corp. was seeking to purchase 250,000 shares at $2.50 a share. Penn-Dixie closed at 25 1/2, unchanged from its closing price Friday.

Autos declined, led by Chrysler, down 2 1/2 to 63 1/2. In the chemicals, DuPont gave up 1/2 to 160 1/4.

Rails declined, with North-west Industries losing 3 to 135 1/2 despite good earnings.

Xerox lost 5 to 271 although it recently reported good corporate results.

Former area student to present paper

Irvin H. Yetter

PHILADELPHIA—Irvin H. Yetter, 563 Livezey Lane, Roxborough, manager of diagnostic services with Sperry Rand Corporation's UNIVAC Division, will present a technical paper at the 1968 National Conference and Exposition of the Association for Computing Machinery in Las Vegas, Nevada, August 27-28.

The paper entitled "High Speed Simulation for the UNIVAC 1107" will deal with programming techniques for one of the large-scale UNIVAC computer models in use by business and industry throughout the United States and abroad.

A member of the UNIVAC organization for more than 13 years, Yetter began his career as a programmer in the company's design programming section.

A graduate of Stroudsburg High School, Yetter attended Temple University where he received an A. B. degree in Physics and a M. A. in mathematics. He and Mrs. Yetter are the parents of two sons.

affairs, he joined the former Richfield Oil Corporation in 1953.

Thomas C. Veale, public relations manager, Eastern Area, with headquarters in Philadelphia, providing public relations services to company operations in the eastern area of the United States and Canada, except the New York metropolitan area which will be served by the New York staff. Formerly manager of community relations, Veale joined the company in 1946.

Lower earnings

NEW YORK—The American Can Co. established increased sales but lower earnings for the first six months of 1968, it was announced by William F. May, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

Sales for the first six months of 1968 were $762,105,000, compared with $727,113,000 for the comparable period of 1967, an increase of 4.8 percent.

Second quarter sales in 1968 of $397,442,000 represent a 0.3 percent increase over the second quarter sales of $396,076,000 for 1967.

First six months net earnings of $35,662,000 in 1968 ($1.95 per common share) compare with $36,848,000 ($2.02 per common share) in 1967.

Increased coverage

BLOOMINGTON — Increased coverage on household belongings and protection against bills run up through lost or stolen credit cards have been added, at no extra cost, to State Farm homeowners policies in Pennsylvania.

The credit card protection covers losses of up to $1,000. The increased contents coverage goes from 40 percent of the amount of insurance on the house to 50 percent, boosting from $8,000 to $10,000 the coverage on belongings in a house insured for $20,000.

The increases went into effect this week for the state's 107,682 policyholders.

Those who previously have been buying the credit card coverage will find the savings reflected in their next premium notices, according to Walter Vernier, executive vice president of State Farm Fire and Casualty Co. The broadening of the policy is due to the increasing use of credit cards and the effect of inflation on property values, he said.

The additional protection also extends to the policyholders and their bank coverage of up to $1,000 should either suffer loss due to a forged or altered check. It also protects an insured against loss of up to $100 should he unknowingly accept counterfeit money.

Pocono Record Readers: Special INTRODUCTORY OFFER brings you as much as $10,000.00 EXTRA CASH INCOME WHENEVER YOU GO TO THE HOSPITAL

- ★ PAYS IN ADDITION TO ANY OTHER COVERAGE YOU HAVE ★ Pays $100.00-A-WEEK CASH for each week you
★ No age limit—no medical examination required spend in the hospital...even up to 100 weeks
★ Checks are sent directly to you; money may be used any way you see fit

Act Now—GET FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1

(OR $2 FOR YOUR ENTIRE FAMILY.) THEN YOU MAY CONTINUE AT WORLD MUTUAL'S REGULAR LOW RATES.

Money back in full if not 100% satisfied. No age limit—Apply NOW by date shown in Enrollment Form below.

ONE OUT OF TWO FAMILIES will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family, tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have TRIPLED in just a few short years. They are expected to DOUBLE AGAIN in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly but necessary X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stops, but living expenses go right on—rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop? What is the average bread winner to do?

Now you can receive $100.00 a week tax-free cash, from the very first day you enter the hospital for as long as you are confined there—even for 100 full weeks, if necessary!

This new plan relieves you of worry about the terrible financial threat of accident or illness. But you must apply during this limited enrollment period BEFORE the date shown in your coupon below.

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON Only $1 for First Month—Money-Back Guarantee

To encourage you to see how much this Plan can mean to you and your family, we make this unusual, money-saving offer:

You can now have your first month's protection for only one dollar! But, you must act immediately, because this unusual opportunity is offered for a limited time. Your request for this wonderful Income Protection plan must be mailed on your convenient form below NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT, of the date in the Enrollment Form.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your enrollment form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY Exclusions!

The new World Mutual Plan covers every conceivable kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by the use of alcoholic beverages or narcotics; mental or nervous disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 3 years only); or where care is in a Government hospital. Everything else IS covered.

How can $1 buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But World Mutual can now provide you with $100.00 a week tax-free Income Protection for just $1 the first month ONLY BECAUSE WE ENROLL A NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME—direct by mail! This highly efficient PAYS YOU CASH...$100.00-A-WEEK tax free cash starting your very first day in the hospital. No waiting period!

PAYS YOU CASH...to a maximum of $10,000.00 any time you go to the hospital and stay for as long as 100 weeks.

PAYS YOU CASH...Money mailed directly to you—not to the doctor or hospital!

PAYS YOU CASH...you get $100.00-A-Week in addition to whatever you receive from Medicare, Workmen's Compensation or any other insurance.

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with The World Mutual Plan in addition to what "Medicare" will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you will still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to what you receive from Medicare—or any other health insurance you may have.

Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you, to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most—to help pay any bills you choose. Best of all, your World Mutual protection will pay even for 100 weeks, if necessary!

"Mass enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone. We are able to issue thousands of policies in a few short weeks—rather than spread the procedure over many long months—or even a year. Our overhead and processing expenses are reduced drastically—and the savings are passed on to you!

After your first month's protection, you may continue at World Mutual's regular low monthly rates—and the rate you pay now will never be increased because you grow older!

What Would Happen To Your Family?

The chances are one in seven that you will spend some time in the hospital this year. A fall on the stairs, in the bathtub, or on the sidewalk—a sudden illness or operation—could lay you out for weeks, months, perhaps even years.

Right now, you probably have some hospital coverage. You may think you're "safe" from all the financial burdens of sickness and accident. But hospital coverage usually takes care of only part of your expenses.

Can you afford the soaring costs of doctor, surgical, and nursing bills? Can you afford missing your weekly paycheck during the time you're laid up in the hospital? Even though you probably have some protection now—will it be enough? Sickness, accidents, hospitalization, cost many people their savings, their cars, even their homes. Don't take chances with your financial security. Now for only pennies a day, YOU can enjoy the added protection, the peace of mind, the freedom from worry that this new World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Extra Income Health and Accident Plan WNL-1-667 offers.

The Added Protection You NEED!

All benefits of this World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your other insurance. Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctors' bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not fully covered by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all the bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why World Mutual developed low-cost Income Protection that helps you pay either hospital costs or anything else you need or want!

You get your $100.00 per week ($14.28 per day)—TAX FREE—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even for 100 weeks, if necessary.

For Older Folks—Greater Protection Than You Ever Would Have Thought Possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to pay a big premium for it? Or perhaps you no longer have a regular income, and are living on Social Security. What would happen to you then if you had to suddenly go to a hospital?

Your "life saver" could be this wonderful World Mutual Income Protection Plan—because World Mutual welcomes folks of all ages into its Plan. You can even be OVER 100 and still be eligible!

Can You Afford to Miss This Chance?

Now, at less cost than you may ever have thought would be possible, you can set up a "gold mine" of protection from desperate financial straits if the need arises. Thanks to this unique new Plan, you can assure the solid, substantial protection you need—and not only save money, but assure yourself of other benefits, too; during all the years to come.

Our Famous MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

We are so sure that we offer the best protection at the lowest cost, that we make our famous MONEY-BACK guarantee.

When you send for your policy, and it arrives in your hands, we want you to look it over as carefully and as often as you wish. See how thoroughly it protects you. See how exactly it meets the needs that you want covered. See how here, at last, is the policy that makes it possible for you to get the sickness and accident protection you need, in greater measure than ever before!

If you are not 100% satisfied that your policy is exactly what we have promised it to be, and exactly what YOU want it to be—send the policy back to us within 30 days and we will REFUND YOUR MONEY IN FULL, AT ONCE. But meanwhile you will be protected. And, if you decide to continue this wonderful protection, you may do so at the low rate shown below—a rate which will never be raised because you grow older!

World Mutual Plans Are Nationally Known

This money-saving World Mutual $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan truly offers outstanding value. Here's why: You can buy ordinary insurance from most companies at regular rates all year long. They are happy to issue one policy at a time. But World Mutual issues many new policies at one time during a limited enrollment period.

This "mass enrollment" method keeps our underwriting, processing and all other overhead expenses down to a bare minimum—and these savings are passed on to you!

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON Only $1 for First Month— Unconditional Money Back Guarantee

To introduce you to this new Plan, we make you this unusual offer: Act during this enrollment period and get your first month's protection for only one dollar (only $2 for your entire family)!

Simply fill out your enrollment form here and mail it with just $1 (or $2 for the entire family), before midnight, of the date within the coupon. A full month's protection will go into effect on the same day we accept your enrollment form. Your policy will be sent to you right away BY MAIL.

When you get your policy, examine all its benefits and features. Have it checked, if you wish, by your lawyer, doctor, clergyman, or other trusted adviser. If you are not 100% satisfied, return the policy within 30 days and your money will be refunded. If you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at the low rates as follows for each member:

World Mutual Monthly Renewal Rates

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
0-39	only $3.95
40-54	only $4.95
55-64	only $5.95
65-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $9.25

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this World Mutual plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

The reliable company behind your policy

Your policy is guaranteed by the World Mutual Health and Accident Insurance Company of Pennsylvania. We have been helping families safeguard their security with sound insurance protection for more than 47 years. Our rating by Dunne's Insurance Reports, the world's largest policyholders' reporting service, is A+ (Excellent). This is the highest rating any insurance company can reach.

As for our financial position, Dunne's analysis shows that for each $100.00 of liabilities, World Mutual has assets of $184.54. This is higher than the 5-year average of the 15 largest insurance companies in the country, which have assets of $107.62 for each $100.00 of liabilities. In addition to this ample margin of financial safety, you can count on us to handle your claims fairly and promptly when you are hospitalized. World Mutual has paid claims in every state and in many foreign countries as well.

Act NOW—"Later" May Be TOO Late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly! (No salesman will call.) Get your enrollment form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

THESE 20 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell us how World Mutual's $100.00-A-Week Income Protection Plan gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

- How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital? $100.00 per week.
- When will my hospitalization benefits start? The day you enter the hospital.
- Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full week? Yes. This new plan pays whether you are in the hospital for only a day, or a week, a month, or a year!
- Does this policy have any "waiting periods" before I can use it? No. It will go into force on the same day we accept your completed enrollment form and $1 premium (or $2 for your entire family).
- How long will I continue to receive hospitalization benefits? For every day you are in the hospital to a maximum of 100 weeks, as a result of any one accident or illness.
- Suppose I am paid benefits for any sickness or accident. What happens if I am again hospitalized for the same condition? After you have resumed full normal activities for just six months, you are again eligible for benefits for a recurring condition, to a maximum of 100 weeks. And of course, any new condition would be covered immediately!
- How may I use these benefit payments? You may use them in any way you wish—for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses, or anything else. This is entirely up to you!
- Can I collect from World Mutual even if I carry other insurance? Of course. This plan will pay you in addition to whatever you may receive from any other policies, including Medicare, for folks over 65.
- Why do I need this World Mutual Plan in addition to my other hospital and health insurance? While hospital costs have tripled in recent years, very few people have tripled their insurance. The chances are one in seven that you will require hospital care this year—and you will need money to take care of all your other expenses, as well as your hospital bills. Your World Mutual checks are rushed to you by air mail to use as you see fit!
- May I apply if I am over 65? Yes, you may. Folks any age are welcome to apply—there is no age limit!
- Will my protection be cancelled because I have too many claims? No. World Mutual guarantees never to cancel your protection because you have too many claims or because of advanced age. We also guarantee never to refuse to renew your policy unless the premium is not paid before the end of the grace period, or unless renewal is declined on all policies of this type in your entire state. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)
- Will benefits be reduced because of advanced age? No. Regardless of how old you become or how many claims you have, your benefits remain the same.
- Will my rates be raised as I grow older or if I have too many claims? No matter how many claims you have, or regardless of how long you keep your policy, your rate will remain the same as it was for your age when you applied. World Mutual guarantees never to adjust this rate unless the rates are adjusted on all policies of this type in your entire state!
- What is not covered by this policy? The only conditions not covered are those caused by: the use of alcohol or narcotics; mental or nervous disorders; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 3 years only); act of war; or where care is in a Government hospital. Everything else is covered!
- What are the requirements for membership in this World Mutual Plan? You must not have been refused any health, hospital or life insurance, and, to qualify during this enrollment period, you must apply before midnight of the date in the coupon.
- Why is this offer good for a limited time only? Because by enrolling a large number of people at the same time, underwriting, processing and policy issuance costs can be kept at a minimum—and we can pass these savings on to you.
- Besides the savings, are there other advantages to joining World Mutual during this enrollment period? Yes. A very important one is that you do not need to complete a regular application—just the brief form in the lower left hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no other requirements for eligibility—and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!
- Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer? Yes, as long as they can meet the few requirements listed under Question 15.
- How does the money-back guarantee work? Examine your policy carefully in the privacy of your own home. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied, return it within 30 days and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile you will be fully protected while making your decision!
- How do I join? Fill out your brief enrollment form (be sure to sign your name) and mail it, with just $1 for the first month's protection, ($2 covers your entire family). Mail to: World Mutual, 11401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.
